(b) No comprehensive study nas been conducted which reveals the industry-wise concentration of child labour.

(c) The incidence of child labour in our country is mainly due to socio economic compulsions.

There are a number of legislations which prohibit the employment of children below 14 years in certain occupations/processes and regulate their conditions of work in other areas with a view to protect them for exploitation at work and also to improve their working conditions. The National Policy on Child Labour, 1987 has been formulated which inter alia, envisages project based plan of action in areas of concentration of child labour and focussing on general development programme for the benefit of child labour. Financial assistance to voluntary organisations is also provided to take action-oriented projects.

Enforcement of child labour legislation is principally the responsibility of the State Governments/Administration of Union Territories. They have been addressed from time to time to ensure strict enforcement of the laws. With a view to further strengthen the enforcement Machinery, 50 per cent financial assistance is given to State Governments under a centrally sonsored plan scheme.
